HISTORY ET GARDENS

Discovery of the Age of Enlightenment with the Duc de Choiseul, great minister of King Louis XV and governor of Touraine in the eighteenth century.

Visit the Pagoda - historical monument built by the Duke of Choiseul in 1775, offering from the top of its 44m panoramic views of the Royal Castle of Amboise, the Loire Valley and the forest of Amboise.

Walk in the park of 14 hectares, located on the edge of the forest of Amboise, around the large pond in half moon, in which is reflected the Pagoda.

The splendor of the "Palace Disappeared" - virtual restitution in 3D synthetic images of the castle and gardens of Chanteloup at their peak.

Small Iconographic Museum illustrating the portraits of the historical figures of the Domaine de Chanteloup, from the 18th century to today, and presenting the plans of the area of the time of Chisel.

The garden of FU XI - come to discover this small garden, its oriental essences and its chinoiseries, which reminds us of the taste for the "Anglo-Chinese gardens", so appreciated at the end of the XVIIIth century.

ACTIVITIES

An "old-fashioned" wooden play area reminiscent of the bowling green games practiced by the Duke de Choiseul's guests in the Chanteloup gardens.

Boat trips on the large pond of the Park Pagoda Chanteloup (€ 5 / h).
